no one's gonna see this but its sad boi hours so ill sit in here Ill really miss this place is all I can say??
I met so many wonderful people and it really shaped my childhood, like, a lot. Decided I liked to write. I liked to draw. I learned some new things, some new experiences really, and how genuinely nice people could be on the internet, which kinda shaped my experience there too. Found the best group of online friends ever, and you know who you are if you're reading this So I'll miss being here really. I've been here since 2015, left in 2017 unofficially because Discord was a better place to talk but the forums will forever be in my heart
Stick together y'all
